Silicone Clinic

Our custom made, high definition lifelike silicone cosmeses for upper and lower limbs are created to bespoke specifications by our highly skilled technicians on-site. Careful assessment of the skin's colour and texture is carried out for each client to ensure the perfect match.

Even skin pigmentation, freckles, veins, hair and tattoos can be incorporated to give an authentic and personalised finish.

Utilising Spectromatch, our unique electronic colour matching process, we deliver a near perfect match to individual skin shades.

Our Spectromatch system stores up to 22,000 colours and offers a far superior matching process than traditional swatches.

Wednesday 11th November was the moment Ian started looking to the future again. It started when his world turned upside down following a medical negligence case that resulted in the devastating loss of his left leg. After five years of exhausting legal battles, a settlement was reached, resulting in a visit to The London Prosthetic Centre. Here, the dedicated team led by Abdo Haidar, began to help Ian put his life back on track, from recommending the most suitable prosthesis for his lifestyle, to providing the utmost care and attention at each visit. With his new prosthesis, Ian's outlook on the future has dramatically changed, and now eagerly anticipates marrying his partner and fulfilling his dreams of adventuring far and wide.
