ONE STEP AHEAD

Hello, my name is Mark.

In 2017 my foot had to be surgically amputated below my knee.

I now have a prosthetic foot which allows me to walk and drive but I still occasionally require a wheelchair to get around.

Since my operation I have realised how inaccessible many places are for people with disabilities.

Before I lost my foot, I spent 35 years in the construction industry. From starting as a Joiner, I worked my way up to being a site and contracts manager, overseeing design and build projects to large scale new build and refurbishment contracts.

I am now looking to pair my extensive experience in the construction industry with my newfound understanding of the requirements for people with disabilities.

Because of my unique situation I am able to give highly valuable end-to-end consultancy on delivering construction projects that are accessible for people with disabilities.
